PENROSE HOLDS UP PLATFORM

Republican Boss Cannot Decide on State Declaration

AFRAID TO DEFINE THE ISSUE

Washington Party Platform Ready for the Consideration of the State Committee at its Meeting Tomorrow—Issues of the Campaign are Clearly Set Forth.

Although the regular business session of the Washington party state committee will not be held until tomorrow, there will be a preliminary meeting in Harrisburg this evening, in order to comply with the law passed last year requiring all state committees to meet not later than the third Wednesday after the primary election.

At this preliminary session a draft of the platform will be submitted for approval prior to its presentation at the meeting tomorrow. The various planks are being put into shape by Gifford Pinchot, nominee for United States senator; William Draper Lewis, nominee for governor, and A. Nev in Detrich, state chairman, in conjunction with other party leaders and candidates.

Some of the Committeemen. While the official returns are not complete the following are among the Washington party state committeemen who have probably been elected:

Armstrong—George Templeton.
Blair—John A. Shurtle.
Cambria—F. H. Barker, T. A. Estep.
Cameron—L. K. Huntingdon.
Centre—Dr. M. J. Locke.
Clarion—Homer E. Carbett.
Clearfield—James Mitchell.
Clinton—R. F. Rich.
Elk—Richard A. Cartright.
Jefferson—Theodore V. Hendricks.
Indiana—George M. Wilkinson.
McKean—E. A. Studholme.

Republican Cowardice.

Falling in their efforts to draft a state platform upon which Senator Penrose may stand with the other nominees of the Republican machine, the party leaders have decided to defer until September the adoption of their declaration of principles.

Consequently, when the Republican state committee meets at Harrisburg today to organize, it will, contrary to precedent, adjourn without setting forth the issues upon which the voters of the state will be asked to support the Penrose organization candidates nominated at the primary election.

Won't Offend Liquor Men.

That was the plan agreed upon on Monday at a conference between Senator Penrose, State Chairman William E. Crow, Secretary W. Harry Baker, State Senators James P. McNichol and Edwin H. Vane and several of the state candidates.

The liquor question is said to have been the main issue upon which some of the other candidates differed from Penrose, and there was such a wide variance of views on this and other vital planks that it was decided to dodge the issues for the present and to let a committee, to be appointed today, take up the problem and evolve a compromise platform by fall.

Will Try to Fool Public.

In an effort to square themselves with the public, the machine leaders will explain that the committee feels that the party platform should not be finally framed until September, when there will be an opportunity to make declarations, especially upon national issues, which shall be up-to-date particularly on Mexican and Panama canal tolls situations, and the effect of the Democratic tariff upon the commercial, industrial and agricultural conditions of the country.

Gifford Pinchot, Washington party nominee for United States senator, in commenting on the proposed postponement by the Republican state committee of declarations on the issues of the campaign said Monday night:

Penrose's Watchful Waiting.

"I am told that the Republicans are planning to delay getting out their platform until next fall in order to find out what are the political issues at that time, and make it fit the needs of the moment.

"Such a proceeding is perfectly natural and consistent for the Penrose machine, which has no fixed principle

It is no occasion of surprises. Things may change between now and September, and the Penrose principles will change with them. Machine-made platforms are naturally that way.

Will Make Platform.

"The Washington party can and will make its platform now. The principles for which we stand are the same now as they will be in September, no matter what may happen in the intervening months. There is the difference in a nutshell. The Penrose machine is clutching at any issue to win on. We are fighting for things we seriously and permanently believe in. We are not waiting for political developments to tell us what we stand for. We know that now."

Democrats Draft a Platform.

Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic nominee for United States senator who was in Philadelphia Monday night, in conference with other Democratic leaders at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, in commenting on the delay in adopting the Republican platform, said that it indicated the candidates were not in harmony.

They outlined the platform to be presented to the Democratic state committee at its meeting in Harrisburg today. It is expected that unqualified approval will be given to President Wilson's administration.

The Prohibition state committee also will meet in Harrisburg today.

SENATE ASKS INFORMATION

Would Learn If New York Central Is to be Sued.

By a vote of 33 to 20 the senate Monday referred to the interstate commerce committee, the Norris resolution asking the attorney general to state, if the New York Central lines constitute a combination in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and if he intends to proceed against it.

The effect of this is to delay action. Senator Norris objected to that course. Other senators, some of them Democratic leaders, objected to calling upon the attorney general to disclose his intentions in a matter which might be the subject of litigation.

COALPORT MAN KILLED

Emory Gates Meets Fatal Accident on Railroad.

A man said to be Emory Gates, of Coalport, this county, was struck by a freight train at Johnsonburg, Elk county, on Saturday last.

He was taken to the hospital at Ridgway and died in that institution Monday night.

MINES NOT WORKING ON FULL TIME NOW

Employees of B. R. P. Railroad Feel Effects of Depression

The industrial outlook in this section is not over bright at the present time, and the depression in this and adjoining counties is directly traceable to the lack of demand for coal, says the Pottsville Spirit.

The majority of the mines of this section are working two and three days each week, and even with this curtailed output sidings everywhere are being filled with coal. As a result of the lack of orders for coal the railroad tonnage is, of course, cut almost in half and as a consequence 76 brakemen and 46 firemen working on the division of the B. R. & P. railroad were laid off Saturday last. A number of contractors were started flagging and many engineers who have handled throbbles for several years are now firing.

In DuBois more than 400 employees of the B. R. & P. railway have been laid off. These include the workmen in the shops there. This is a season of short coal orders, and the depression at this time is to be expected. A brightening up of industrial affairs may be expected especially if the West Virginia coal strike continues.

A PROFITABLE S.S. CONVENTION

District One Holds Interesting Meeting at Mt. Joy

SPLENDID ADDRESSES MADE

Subjects on Sunday School Work Discussed in Able Manner—Hon. F. G. Harris Tells of Trip to Holy Land—Sumptuous Meals Provided for the Participants.

The annual convention of district No. 1 of the Clearfield County Sabbath School association, held in Mt. Joy M. E. church, Tuesday, June 2, was remarkable for its excellent program, attendance and the number of state, county and district officers present.

The morning session opened at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. B. A. Salter had charge of the opening exercises, the address of welcome being made by Archer Ogden. An address was made by Rev. O. B. Poulson, county field worker, and committees were appointed.

At 12:00 o'clock a splendid picnic dinner was served by the ladies of the community, in the grove. Mt. Joy church, school and grange buildings are grouped close together, and a better place for a picnic dinner could scarcely be imagined.

Afternoon Session.

In the afternoon, the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. A. Q. Norton. H. J. Flegal, superintendent of Trinity M. E. Sunday school—the largest Sunday school in Clearfield county—spoke on "The Making of a Model Sunday School." Thos. H. Murray, Esq., a member of the state executive board, was present and spoke on this subject, as did also Dr. H. R. Bender. "Workable Plans for the Primary Department" were presented by Mrs. A. H. Woodward. "The Sunday School as a Soul-Saving Agency" was the theme of a talk by Captain Harry Heinsbach and the advantages of a teacher training course were discussed by Mrs. Carrie B. Smith and others.

Election of Officers.

Roy I. Fulton, district president, presided at the afternoon and evening sessions. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, N. A. Ogden; vice president Paul Deitzel; secretary, treasurer, R. M. Haney; elementary superintendent, Mrs. A. H. Woodward; temperance superintendent, Peter Gearhart; missionary superintendent, H. A. Reed; O. A. B. C. superintendent, J. M. Quigley, M. D.; teacher training superintendent, E. F. Kester.

The next convention will be held in Trinity M. E. church, Clearfield, on June 1, 1915.

After another excellent repast in the grove, the evening session was taken up. Praise service was conducted by H. A. Reed. Rev. O. B. Poulson made a brief address and S. C. Watts, county secretary addressed the convention. Mrs. Watts who is county elementary superintendent, delighted the audience with a solo.

F. G. Harris Spoke.

The principal address of the evening was made by Hon. Frank G. Harris, his subject being "The Holy Land." Mr. Harris, who recently made a trip through that interesting country, is a keen observer and tells his experiences in an interesting manner. The speaker held the close attention of his audience for about an hour, vividly portraying the country, its people and customs, giving occasionally some amusing sidelights on human nature. That the subject was one of interest was evidenced by the close attention paid Mr. Harris during the entire address.

Altogether, the convention of District One, which is first this year, was an entire success, and Sabbath school workers who were in attendance should be able to take back to their schools something of real worth.

GAVE A FINE PERFORMANCE

Commencement Proper Will be Held This Evening—Hon. Thomas H. Smith, President of Clarion State Normal School, Will Deliver an Address—List of Graduates.

The exercises of the Junior class of High school given Tuesday evening at the opera house, were entertaining and amusing and showed great talent on the part of the actors.

The opening song "Juniors", was witty and well sung. This was followed by an address of welcome by the president, Cortez Bell, which was delivered in a very pleasing manner. Then came the song "Classes" by the class. This was followed by the class history, given by Pearl Butler. This history brought to the minds of the audience all the great things that the Junior have accomplished. Next came the class prophecy read by Francis Williams. This was very witty and showed great power of imagination.

Then came the class poem composed and read by Miss Ethel Summers, each member of the class rising as his or her name was called.

A School Room Scene.

The next curtain rose upon a school room scene and the song "Teachers" was sung. In this scene the curriculum of the usual Thursday morning was gone through. Prof. Zerfoss was impersonated by John Chase, Mr. Cloos by Cortez Bell, Mr. Kase by John Graham, Miss Cummings by Margaret Stevenson, and Mr. Algier by.

The class song was sung and was followed by advice to the faculty by Willard Chase. Then came the Farewell song by the class.

After this a play, "At the Junction," was given in which was displayed great histrionic talent. Jack Sharp, prospective heir, was played by John Graham. Walter Flegal had the part of Percy Keen, friend of the prospective heir. Jonathan Spotts, the station agent at the junction, Dale Chapman, Evelyn Smith as Fannie Quick, prospective heiress and Myrtle Bryan as Clara Cate, her friend.

DR. BENDER PLEASES

Delivered Memorial Day Address at Philipsburg.

Dr. H. R. Bender, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, Clearfield, delivered the Memorial day address at Philipsburg, and the Journal of that town says of the doctor's speech:

Rev. Dr. Bender delivered one of the very best Memorial day addresses ever heard in Philipsburg. It was on historical lines and was thrillingly interesting. It was highly appreciated by all, especially by the old soldiers, who are most thankful to the doctor for his touching address.

JOBS WILL BE SECURE

Pennsy Men Who Go to War Will Be Granted Furlough.

Employees of the Pennsylvania railroad, when they go to war, in the future need not worry about their jobs. Announcement was made that employees who left the service of the company in response to a call to arms in the event of war or other emergency would be granted a furlough by the company during such time as their service was required by the government. The new arrangement will apply to employees entering the state or national military or naval service, and to members of the national guard. Credit for time absent will be given in computing the pension allowances of employees furloughed for military duty.

Under the old arrangement employees absent on military duty could have a nine months furlough only. Accordingly many men who left their work to serve in the Spanish-American war necessarily lost their positions, although the road made every possible effort to find places for them after their return.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Miss Helen E. Nixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nixon, of Mill Hall, to Trood D. Parker, chief clerk in the engineering department of the New York Central, at Clearfield, has been announced. The wedding will take place on November 5.

RELIGIOUS SPIRIT GRIPS CITIZENS OF OSCEOLA

Johnson Evangelistic Services Will Open Sunday

Osceola Mills, June 3. Special to the Progress.

Work on the big tabernacle for the Robert E. Johnson evangelistic meeting began this morning, and it is the plan of the building committee to have it completed by Saturday evening. Volunteers have come to the aid of the committee and the ladies of the churches are planning to serve the men an boys refreshments while the building is being erected.

Council having refused to grant permission to place the tabernacle in the public square, it will be erected on the vacant lot of Geo. W. Mattern, on Pruner street, in the rear of the Brown, Baird & Co. store.

The interest in the coming services is growing as the time draws near. The cottage prayer meetings are being largely attended in the several districts and the people are praying mightily for God's blessing on the town. The first service will be held in the tabernacle Sunday morning at 10:30.

At the men's union prayer-meeting held in the Presbyterian church last Sunday afternoon, in order that a united effort be made for the uplift and evangelizing of the town, it was agreed to have the church bells rung at 12:45 P. M. each day this and next week. Nine taps will be made, symbolizing the words: "Pray for the forward movement for Christ in Osceola."

JURY NOW HAS MURDER CASE

Trial of Caro and Mastafire Comes to a Close

LAWYERS MAKE THEIR PLEAS

Mastafire, on the Stand, Quoted That He Had a Revolver or Two. He Took Part in the Shooting Which Resulted in the Death of Antonio M-tafire.

The trial of Paul Caro and Raphael Mastafire, accused of the murder of Antonio Mastafire on the West side on Sunday afternoon, April 28, drawing to a close. Mastafire was on the stand in his own defense yesterday afternoon, and told a story which, if true, would seem to prove that he was not an actual participant in the murder of Mastafire. Mastafire said that he did not have a revolver on his person on the day of the shooting and that as soon as the shooting began he ran away.

A number of American witnesses testified that they did not see Mastafire engage in the fracas, but that Caro and Tony the Shoemaker, (Mastafire) appeared to be the principal actors in the tragedy.

The Shoemaker Missing.

From the testimony of witnesses and of the prisoners it is evident that Tony the Shoemaker, took a prominent part in the killing of Mastafire. After the murder Tony got away and his present whereabouts are unknown to the authorities. Caro had sworn that Tony had taken part in the fight.

The case was given to the jury this afternoon. Judge Bell was anxious to have the case disposed of speedily that he held court yesterday although suffering severely from lumbago. Judge Bell is a man who does not easily surrender to sickness, and his appearance on the bench when he ought to have been in his bed demonstrates the fact that he is full of grit.

A Lucky Illness.

One of the physicians who had been subpoenaed as a witness in the murder case is congratulating himself that one of the jurors was taken ill on Friday, although he is glad the juror's illness was not of a serious character.

The doctor thought he could slip away on Friday and enjoy the day on a trout stream and be back in time to give his testimony. Accordingly he hid himself to Deer creek. Whether he caught any trout depends further sayeth not, but that he caught have caught a fine of $30 and the pleasure of the court is certain if the juror had not been taken ill thus making the doctor's presence unnecessary.

The attachment which had been issued for the doctor's apprehension was not served, and the doctor is congratulating himself over his narrow escape.

At noon Messrs. Cole and Miller, of counsel for the prisoners, had finished their speeches to the jury, and at the opening of the afternoon session, A. H. Woodward spoke on behalf of the commonwealth. The charge of Judge Bell, followed and the jury retired to deliberate on the verdict.

EVADING THE ISSUES.

Under orders from Boss Penrose
the Republican state committee, in session at Harrisburg today, is expected to sidetrack the making of a platform for the campaign this fall.
The Republican machine is not prepared to enter the contest and fight
the campaign upon live issues, but hopes to spring upon the voters later in the year a platform declaring for a higher tariff, war with Mexico and a few other questions which have little or nothing to do with Pennsylvania politics.

Penrose is afraid to have his state committee declare against the liquor evil. He owes his nomination to the liquor interests, and he wishes to have an opportunity to pay his debts
to the rum dealers. The liquor dealers on their part do not want Penrose
to declare himself on the question, lest the wave of temperance started in this state shall sweep them out of business.

Penrose does not wish his state committee to declare itself for or against woman's suffrage, although he and his followers will try to deceive the women during the campaign
by telling them that he is for votes
for women. But the women of Pennsylvania are not going to permit Penrose to evade this issue, and they will demand of him that he make his position on the question so plain that they will know where he actually stands.

There are other issues which the Republicans are desirous of having
kept in the background, workingmen's compensation act, child labor and the like—and the effort of the Penrose following to keep these in the background by postponing until September the announcement of the Republican platform will not prevent the discussion of these issues.

OPPOSING THE LAW.

There is a federal law which prohibits the killing of migratory birds
at certain times and this is being fought by the pot hunter. The law
was passed in the hope that the birds which migrate from one part of the country to the other might be protected from extermination. In the south for instance, robins are slaughtered
throughout the winter by men who claim to be sportsmen, but who are nothing more than bird butchers.

A southwestern judge has declared
the migratory bird law unconstitutional, and the matter will be taken to the supreme court of the United States. Sportsmen who hunt for the pleasure of hunting should aid in the enforcement of every law that has for its object the preservation of the birds of the country, now fast disappearing, what with the pot hunter always in the field and the craze for feathers on their headgear by women.

The good people of Stroudsburg
raised over thirty-two thousand dollars toward the erection of a new building for the town's Y. M. C. A.
Another example for Clearfield people to paste in their scrap books.

Here's hoping High school graduates will find life's pathway strewn with many roses and that the thorns
may be few and far between.

Lest you forget, the circulating library is still waiting for those books
you intend to give it.

Europe's Diamond Industry.

Years ago Amsterdam was at the head of the diamond industry in Europe. Of late Antwerp has forged ahead and taken first place. Amsterdam very largely specializes in small stones, and its superiority over Antwerp in cutting these diamonds is unquestioned. Antwerp, on the other hand, cuts large diamonds and small ones, according to what happens to be most in demand. It works on the larger Transvaal stones furnished by the London syndicate, and at the same time it monopolizes the small southwest African business.

The Word "Lurid."

The word "lurid" is misused by many people as a synonym for "glaring" or "dramatic." One speaks in this sense of "lurid" language, "lurid" flames, "lurid" dramas. It is probable that not one person in three knows the real meaning of "lurid." The dictionary defines it as "ghastly, pale, wan, gloomy,"
which in no way carries out the general and mistaken idea of the word.—

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back
Hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day eat it, but flush your kidneys
with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat form uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with
a dull misery in the kidney region,
sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour,
tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.
The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief
two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids,
to cleanse the kidney and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces
of Jad Salts from any pharmacy her
take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days
and your kidneys will then act fine.
This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulat
 sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize
the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

STORIES OF WRECK BASIS OF FIGHT

Owners of Vessels Back the Two Commandors.

BODIES OF 99 IDENTIFIED.

Dynamite to Be Used to Blow Up Sunk Ship—More Bodies May Than Be Recovered—$1,000,000 in Silver at Bottom of River Sought—Grief Stricken Relatives Surround Morgue.

Montreal, June 3.—While waiting for the convening of the special commis-sion that will fix the responsibility for the sinking of the Empress of Ireland both the representatives of the Cana-dian Pacific Railway company and of the Dominion Coal company, which owns the Storstad, have assumed the policy of silence.

The officers and members of the crew of both vessels have been warned not to tell any more about their ex-periences.

From what has been said already, however, there is every indication of a bitter fight ahead. The officers of the Dominion Coal company will stand by Captain Anderson of the Storstad to the finish. It is noticeable here that while sentiment on the day of the dis-aster and the day following was gen-erally in favor of Captain H. G. Ken-dall of the Empress, the young Nor-wegian who commands the collier has since won many friends.

Statements Are Reconciled. There are many who believe that, while his statement and that of Cap-tain Kendall appear to vary in impor-tant points, particularly with regard to the backing away of the Storstad after the collision, they may be reconciled in a great measure when the different points of view are considered.

It is not likely that the special com-mission will meet until June 9 at the earliest.

Ninety-nine Bodies Identified. In Quebec the identification of the victims is going on slowly, and only ninety-nine have been recognized, leaving ninety-nine still wearing the tags that were placed on them when they were shipped from Rimouski.

Grief stricken relatives still stream to "shed 27," where the dead lie. Many distressing sights are witnessed as the identifications are made and as complications arise over the claims of different persons for the same body.

Five different persons claimed the body of a baby. One body had been identified as that of Mrs. H. Wynne Price. Sailors from the Empress of Ireland later identified it as that of Mrs. T. H. Leader, chief stewardess of the Empress.

Mrs. Price's niece, who made the original identification, finally proved by rings found on the body that it was that of her aunt, and the body was given into her possession.

Public services over the bodies of nine sailors will be held. The entire city will participate in the exercises. Sailors from the cruiser Essex, sol-diers from the citadel and men from the ships in the harbor will march in the funeral procession.

Empress Will Be Dynamited.

The best opinion of marine men is that the Empress of Ireland will be dynamited. This may release a lot of bodies that are believed still to be in the hull—some of those who were killed as they slept and others who were unable to get to the decks.

The breaking up of the sunken liner may also release $1,000,000 in silver bullion which she carried. The Em-press sank much nearer shore than was first reported. She lies seven and a half miles from Father Point. A large buoy marks the wreck, and at night this is topped with a strong light.

GERMANY AND SHIPS' FINES.

Cases of Ypiranga and Bavaria Under Inquiry—No Protests Yet.

Berlin, June 3.—No instructions in connection with the fines imposed on the German steamships Ypiranga and Bavaria for landing at Puerto Mexico cargoes of arms and ammunition for Provisional President Huerta have been given by the German foreign of-fice to Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States.

This official statement was made at the government offices, but it was ad-ded that the cases are under investiga-tion for the purpose of ascertaining exactly what occurred. They will later be the subject of negotiations with Washington.

An official denial was given to a pub-lished report that Germany had pro-tested against the penalization of the vessels.

LIMITING LABOR INJUNCTIONS

House to Consider This Section of Anti-trust Bill.

Washington, June 3.—The Clayton "omnibus" anti-trust bill is still before the house, with prospects that detailed consideration of the measure will be completed at once.

Rapid progress has been made, only five of the twenty-two sections of the bill remaining to be disposed of. When the house convened it was the intention to consider the section of the bill limiting the use of the injunction in labor disputes.

I. W. W. PLANS GREAT FIGHT AT TARRYTOWN

Village Arms Extra Force to Repulse Assault of Mob.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 3.—Despite heavy sentences imposed on agitators who have made Tarrytown a field for their operations, a mob of 500 is being organized to renew the assault, and the village authorities are prepared for trouble.

"If you want fight, we'll give it to you," Leonard Abbott, president of the Free Speech league, warned President Pierson. "Yes, we'll bring a mob and fill all your jails to overflowing," added an anarchist whose name does not suggest activities in these parts.

Mr. Pierson refused to be bluffed into granting permission for meetings in Tarrytown, but he takes the threats seriously enough to have an extra force of guards on duty to battle with the invading host.

Additional arms have been provided for the police, and they are instructed to use bullets if other methods of keep-ing the peace fail.

The twelve prisoners in White Plains jail are still on hunger strike. "Eat or starve," is Sheriff Doyle's ultimatum.

AT ONCE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Breathe Freely! Clears Stuffed-up In-flamed Nose and Head and Stops Catarrhal Discharges. Cures Dul Headache.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and clogged air passages of the head will open, you will breathe freely, dull-ness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

Erd such misery now. Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet fra-grant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane, which lines the nose, head and throat, clears the air passages, stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes im-mediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath with head stuffed, nostril closed, hawking and blowing Catarrh or a cold with its running nose, foul mucous dripping into the throat and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in Ely's Cream Balm and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

Varieties of Bridges. Bridges are seen hanging over rivers and upon noses. They also span some streets. They should not be confused with the game called bridge, which spans only time and money. Some bridges, like poker, depend entirely upon the draw. Bridges spend their time in heaving up and down and leaning against their towers. The object of bridges is to give very one a chance to get back from where he has been, or to go whence he can get back. Some-times bridges are built over railroad tracks and spend all their time in sav-ing people from being run over. A bridge which is thus employed is very happy, because it leads an upright life; also because the railroad company was sad when obliged to put it there.

Bridges are also used over chasms. Every chasm ought to have one. It provides a place for children to fall from; also it gives the chasm some-thing to look up to.—Life.

CARRANZA'S DEFI WORRIES WILSON

Latest Statement May Disrupt Peace Negotiations.

POSITION IS EMBARRASSING

President Denies Himself to All Callers as Situation Grows More Serious. Confident Front in Regard to Mediation Is Observed at White House. Rebels Firm in Demands.

Washington, June 3.—Unless Secretary Bryan can find some new oil to calm the troubled waters at Niagara Falls, mediation, official Washington fears, will be swamped. It is feared that a blowup may come at any time. The ark of the peacemakers is foundering.

President Wilson denied himself to all callers, except members of the cabinet, who assembled for the regular meeting. The president has been in frequent communication with the American commissioners at Niagara Falls, and despite the efforts made at the White House to preserve a confident front regarding mediation, it was evident that the high officials of the government are apprehensive of what Carranza's latest defl to the mediators will bring forth.

It was stated at the executive officers that the published accounts of Carranza's address to the American press, in which the Constitutionalists commander declared in substance that he would completely ignore any conclusions reached at Niagara Falls which might take Huerta into consideration or attempt to settle the internal affairs of the republic, have not yet been officially confirmed. It was evident, however, that officials are not inclined to seriously doubt the authenticity of the published report.

United States' Position Embarrassing. The position of the United States with regard to mediation is more than ever embarrassed by the dual character in which it appears. In the first place the United States government, having assumed the role of a friend to all factions in Mexico, is seeking to bring all these factions together in harmonious accord at Niagara Falls. In the second place, as patron of the Constitutionalists' cause in Mexico, it is not desirous of embarrassing a speedy consummation of Carranza's purposes.

Carranza apparently is not as considerate of the United States. Statements such as he delivered to the press appear to be drawn for the purpose of forcing the United States to take a definite stand in behalf of the rebel cause or of assuming responsibility for future revolutions in Mexico.

Evidently with equal desire to expose the cards of the American government the Huerta delegates at Niagara Falls and, for that matter, the mediators themselves are calling upon the United States for further evidences of its good faith. According to reports from Niagara Falls, the mediators have taken the position that they will not admit representatives of the mediators into their conferences unless the United States prevails upon Carranza to agree to an armistice. The Huerta delegates, the reports say, threaten to withdraw altogether unless this is done.

Carranza, according to his published statement, has no intention of agreeing to a cessation of hostilities. With everything of the war line coming his way, he declares his right to proceed independently of what mediation may aim to do, to capture the City of Mexico. From statements made in administration circles the state department is making no strenuous efforts to change Carranza's attitude.

As a matter of fact, it has been realized for some time that the United States regards the success of the rebel military campaign as essential to its hopes. It wants a government in Mexico as successor to Huerta which will have a firm grip on affairs and which with prompt recognition from the United States, can proceed to a re-establishment of order.

President Wilson has insisted upon a settlement which will care for the peon classes and solve the agrarian problems, and Carranza has apparently informed the world in general that he will have no outside interference in such matters. But President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are still of the opinion apparently that the Carranza cause is one with the cause of the peons and, it is believed, would be willing to leave it to Carranza to work out.

POINCARE SEEKS A PREMIER.

Ministry Resigns, and Viviani Expected to Be Asked to Form Cabinet.

Paris, June 3.—Premier Gaston Doumergue and his colleagues of the French cabinet went to the palace of the Elysee and resigned collectively to President Poincare. The president immediately began the arrangement of consultations with the speakers of the senate and the chamber of deputies and the leaders of the various parliamentary groups.

It was understood that one of the prominent politicians would be requested in the course of the day to undertake the formation of a new cabinet. The view was general in the lobbies of the chamber that Rene Viviani, now minister of public instruction, would be one of the first approached.

CUP DEFENDERS IN FIRST CONTEST

Vanitie and Resolute Meet in Long Island Sound.

Rye, N. Y., June 3.—When the cup class yachts Vanitie and Resolute made sail for their initial contest in the long series of races for the selection of the American boat preliminary to the cup struggles with Shamrock IV, in September, there was not wind enough to flutter the private signals at the peaks of the mainsails. The weather was clear, but for several hours before the time set for the race off Great Captain's island the water of the sound shone like the burnished brass topsides of the Vanitie.

The two yachts lay side by side all night in Glen cove, some ten miles from the start. With them was a good sized fleet of boats that followed the contest, including the tenders Cape Cod and City of Stamford. Much regret was expressed over the inability of the Defiance, the third aspirant for cup defending honors, to enter the contest. The tri-city yacht was still undergoing changes in her rig, which it is hoped will be completed by Saturday, so that she may enter the race on that day.

The foremost hands on the Vanitie and Resolute were early astir, and by eight bells headsails had been sent up in stops. Mainsails were hoisted a little later, but the yachts prepared to be towed down the sound to the start.

COURT BILL IS PASSED

Measure Changing Federal Court Terms Up to Wilson

The Shreve bill designating when federal court shall be held in Erie, Pa., passed the senate Monday. The measure had passed the house. When Senator Frank B. Brandegee, of Connecticut, reported the bill favorably from the senate judiciary committee, Senator George T. Oliver, of Pennsylvania, asked immediate consideration. The bill was passed after Senator Oliver explained that it simply changed the time for holding terms of court in Erie and that the law was requested by the judges of the district of Western Pennsylvania and by the members of the bar generally.

The bill prescribes that terms of the federal court shall be held in Pittsburgh the first Monday of May and the first Monday of November and in Erie the third Monday of March and the third Monday of September. President Wilson is expected to sign the measure promptly.

New Haven, Conn., June 3.—The joint committee of the Brotherhood Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors employed on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, it is announced, have approved the plan of the New Haven road for applying the award of increased wages won by arbitration last July.

Forty-three railroads east of the Mississippi and north of the Missouri rivers were parties to the arbitration. Trainmen on the New Haven road received a 7 per cent increase.

PENROSE HOLDS UP PLATFORM

Republican Boss Cannot Decide on State Declaration

AFRAID TO DEFINE THE ISSUE

Washington Party Platform Ready for the Consideration of the State Committee at its Meeting Tomorrow—Issues of the Campaign are Clearly Set Forth.

Although the regular business session of the Washington party state committee will not be held until tomorrow, there will be a preliminary meeting in Harrisburg this evening, in order to comply with the law passed last year requiring all state committees to meet not later than the third Wednesday after the primary election.

At this preliminary session a draft of the platform will be submitted for approval prior to its presentation at the meeting tomorrow. The various planks are being put into shape by Gifford Pinchot, nominee for United States senator; William Draper Lewis, nominee for governor, and A. Nev in Detrich, state chairman, in conjunction with other party leaders and candidates.

Some of the Committeemen. While the official returns are not complete the following are among the Washington party state committeemen who have probably been elected:

Armstrong—George Templeton.
Blair—John A. Shurtle.
Cambria—F. H. Barker, T. A. Estep.
Cameron—L. K. Huntingdon.
Centre—Dr. M. J. Locke.
Clarion—Homer E. Carbett.
Clearfield—James Mitchell.
Clinton—R. F. Rich.
Elk—Richard A. Cartright.
Jefferson—Theodore V. Hendricks.
Indiana—George M. Wilkinson.
McKean—E. A. Studholme.

Republican Cowardice.

Falling in their efforts to draft a state platform upon which Senator Penrose may stand with the other nominees of the Republican machine, the party leaders have decided to defer until September the adoption of their declaration of principles.

Consequently, when the Republican state committee meets at Harrisburg today to organize, it will, contrary to precedent, adjourn without setting forth the issues upon which the voters of the state will be asked to support the Penrose organization candidates nominated at the primary election.

Won't Offend Liquor Men.

That was the plan agreed upon on Monday at a conference between Senator Penrose, State Chairman William E. Crow, Secretary W. Harry Baker, State Senators James P. McNichol and Edwin H. Vane and several of the state candidates.

The liquor question is said to have been the main issue upon which some of the other candidates differed from Penrose, and there was such a wide variance of views on this and other vital planks that it was decided to dodge the issues for the present and to let a committee, to be appointed today, take up the problem and evolve a compromise platform by fall.

Will Try to Fool Public.

In an effort to square themselves with the public, the machine leaders will explain that the committee feels that the party platform should not be finally framed until September, when there will be an opportunity to make declarations, especially upon national issues, which shall be up-to-date particularly on Mexican and Panama canal tolls situations, and the effect of the Democratic tariff upon the commercial, industrial and agricultural conditions of the country.

Gifford Pinchot, Washington party nominee for United States senator, in commenting on the proposed postponement by the Republican state committee of declarations on the issues of the campaign said Monday night:

Penrose's Watchful Waiting.

"I am told that the Republicans are planning to delay getting out their platform until next fall in order to find out what are the political issues at that time, and make it fit the needs of the moment.

"Such a proceeding is perfectly natural and consistent for the Penrose machine, which has no fixed principle

It is no occasion of surprises. Things may change between now and September, and the Penrose principles will change with them. Machine-made platforms are naturally that way.

Will Make Platform.

"The Washington party can and will make its platform now. The principles for which we stand are the same now as they will be in September, no matter what may happen in the intervening months. There is the difference in a nutshell. The Penrose machine is clutching at any issue to win on. We are fighting for things we seriously and permanently believe in. We are not waiting for political developments to tell us what we stand for. We know that now."

Democrats Draft a Platform.

Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic nominee for United States senator who was in Philadelphia Monday night, in conference with other Democratic leaders at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, in commenting on the delay in adopting the Republican platform, said that it indicated the candidates were not in harmony.

They outlined the platform to be presented to the Democratic state committee at its meeting in Harrisburg today. It is expected that unqualified approval will be given to President Wilson's administration.

The Prohibition state committee also will meet in Harrisburg today.

SENATE ASKS INFORMATION

Would Learn If New York Central Is to be Sued.

By a vote of 33 to 20 the senate Monday referred to the interstate commerce committee, the Norris resolution asking the attorney general to state, if the New York Central lines constitute a combination in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and if he intends to proceed against it.

The effect of this is to delay action. Senator Norris objected to that course. Other senators, some of them Democratic leaders, objected to calling upon the attorney general to disclose his intentions in a matter which might be the subject of litigation.

MINES NOT WORKING ON FULL TIME NOW

Employees of B. R. P. Railroad Feel Effects of Depression

The industrial outlook in this section is not over bright at the present time, and the depression in this and adjoining counties is directly traceable to the lack of demand for coal, says the Punxsutawney Spirit.

The majority of the mines of this section are working two and three days each week, and even with this curtailed output sidings everywhere are being filled with coal. As a result of the lack of orders for coal the railroad tonnage is, of course, cut almost in half and as a consequence 76 brakemen and 46 firemen working on the division of the B. R. & P. railroad were laid off Saturday last. A number of conductors were started flagging and many engineers who have handled throttles for several years are now firing.

In DuBois more than 400 employees of the B. R. & P. railway have been laid off. These include the workmen in the shops there. This is a season of short coal orders, and the depression at this time is to be expected. A brightening up of industrial affairs may be expected especially if the West Virginia coal strike continues.

District One Holds Interesting Meeting at Mt. Joy

SPLENDID ADDRESSES MADE

Subjects on Sunday School Work Discussed in Able Manner—Hon. F. G. Harris Tells of Trip to Holy Land—Sumptuous Meals Provided for the Participants.

The annual convention of district No. 1 of the Clearfield County Sabbath School association, held in Mt. Joy M. E. church, Tuesday, June 2, was remarkable for its excellent program, attendance and the number of state, county and district officers present.

The morning session opened at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. B. A. Salter had charge of the opening exercises, the address of welcome being made by Archer Ogden. An address was made by Rev. O. B. Poulson, county field worker, and committees were appointed.

At 12:00 o'clock a splendid picnic dinner was served by the ladies of the community, in the grove. Mt. Joy church, school and grange buildings are grouped close together, and a better place for a picnic dinner could scarcely be imagined.

Afternoon Session.

In the afternoon, the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. A. Q. Norton. H. J. Flegal, superintendent of Trinity M. E. Sunday school—the largest Sunday school in Clearfield county—spoke on "The Making of a Model Sunday School." Thos. H. Murray, Esq., a member of the state executive board, was present and spoke on this subject, as did also Dr. H. R. Bender. "Workable Plans for the Primary Department" were presented by Mrs. A. H. Woodward. "The Sunday School as a Soul-Saving Agency" was the theme of a talk by Captain Harry Heinsbach and the advantages of a teacher training course were discussed by Mrs. Carrie B. Smith and others.

Election of Officers.

Roy I. Fulton, district president, presided at the afternoon and evening sessions. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, N. A. Ogden; vice president Paul Deitzel; secretary, treasurer, R. M. Haney; elementary superintendent, Mrs. A. H. Woodward; temperance superintendent, Peter Gearhart; missionary superintendent, H. A. Reed; O. A. B. C. superintendent, J. M. Quigley, M. D.; teacher training superintendent, E. F. Kester.

The next convention will be held in Trinity M. E. church, Clearfield, on June 1, 1915.

After another excellent repast in the grove, the evening session was taken up. Praise service was conducted by H. A. Reed. Rev. O. B. Poulson made a brief address and S. C. Watts, county secretary addressed the convention. Mrs. Watts who is county elementary superintendent, delighted the audience with a solo.

F. G. Harris Spoke.

The principal address of the evening was made by Hon. Frank G. Harris, his subject being "The Holy Land." Mr. Harris, who recently made a trip through that interesting country, is a keen observer and tells his experiences in an interesting manner. The speaker held the close attention of his audience for about an hour, vividly portraying the country, its people and customs, giving occasionally some amusing sidelights on human nature. That the subject was one of interest was evidenced by the close attention paid Mr. Harris during the entire address.

Altogether, the convention of District One, which is first this year, was an entire success, and Sabbath school workers who were in attendance should be able to take back to their schools something of real worth.

Commencement Proper Will be Held This Evening—Hon. Thomas H. Smith, President of Clarion State Normal School, Will Deliver an Address—List of Graduates.

The exercises of the Junior class of High school given Tuesday evening at the opera house, were entertaining and amusing and showed great talent on the part of the actors.

The opening song "Juniors", was witty and well sung. This was followed by an address of welcome by the president, Cortez Bell, which was delivered in a very pleasing manner. Then came the song "Classes" by the class. This was followed by the class history, given by Pearl Butler. This history brought to the minds of the audience all the great things that the Junior have accomplished. Next came the class prophecy read by Francis Williams. This was very witty and showed great power of imagination.

Then came the class poem composed and read by Miss Ethel Summers, each member of the class rising as his or her name was called.

A School Room Scene.

The next curtain rose upon a school room scene and the song "Teachers" was sung. In this scene the curriculum of the usual Thursday morning was gone through. Prof. Zerfoss was impersonated by John Chase, Mr. Cloos by Cortez Bell, Mr. Kase by John Graham, Miss Cummings by Margaret Stevenson, and Mr. Algier by.

The class song was sung and was followed by advice to the faculty by Willard Chase. Then came the Farewell song by the class.

After this a play, "At the Junction," was given in which was displayed great histrionic talent. Jack Sharp, prospective heir, was played by John Graham. DR. BENDER PLEASES

Delivered Memorial Day Address at Philipsburg.

Dr. H. R. Bender, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, Clearfield, delivered the Memorial day address at Philipsburg, and the Journal of that town says of the doctor's speech:

Rev. Dr. Bender delivered one of the very best Memorial day addresses ever heard in Philipsburg. It was on historical lines and was thrillingly interesting. It was highly appreciated by all, especially by the old soldiers, who are most thankful to the doctor for his touching address.

JOBS WILL BE SECURE

Pennsy Men Who Go to War Will Be Granted Furlough.

Employees of the Pennsylvania railroad, when they go to war, in the future need not worry about their jobs. Announcement was made that employees who left the service of the company in response to a call to arms in the event of war or other emergency would be granted a furlough by the company during such time as their service was required by the government. The new arrangement will apply to employees entering the state or national military or naval service, and to members of the national guard. Credit for time absent will be given in computing the pension allowances of employees furloughed for military duty.

Under the old arrangement employees absent on military duty could have a nine months furlough only. Accordingly many men who left their work to serve in the Spanish-American war necessarily lost their positions, although the road made every possible effort to find places for them after their return.

Engagement Announced.

Johnson Evangelistic Services Will Open Sunday

Osceola Mills, June 3. Special to the Progress.

Work on the big tabernacle for the Robert E. Johnson evangelistic meeting began this morning, and it is the plan of the building committee to have it completed by Saturday evening. Volunteers have come to the aid of the committee and the ladies of the churches are planning to serve the men an boys refreshments while the building is being erected.

Council having refused to grant permission to place the tabernacle in the public square, it will be erected on the vacant lot of Geo. W. Mattern, on Pruner street, in the rear of the Brown, Baird & Co store.

The interest in the coming services is growing as the time draws near. The cottage prayer meetings are being largely attended in the several districts and the people are praying mightily for God's blessing on the town. The first service will be held in the tabernacle Sunday morning at 10:30.

At the men's union prayer-meeting held in the Presbyterian church last Sunday afternoon, in order that a united effort be made for the uplift and evangelizing of the town, it was agreed to have the church bells rung at 12:45 P. M. each day this and next week. Nine taps will be made, symbolizing the words: "Pray for the forward movement for Christ in Osceola."

JURY NOW HAS MURDER CASE

Trial of Caro and Mastafire Comes to a Close

LAWYERS MAKE THEIR PLEAS

Mastafire, on the Stand, Swears That He Had a Revolver or That He Took Part in the Shooting Which Resulted in the Death of Antonio M-tafire.

The trial of Paul Caro and Raphael Mastafire, accused of the murder of Antonio Mastafire on the West side on Sunday afternoon, April 28, drawing to a close. Mastafire was on the stand in his own defense yesterday afternoon, and told a story which, if true, would seem to prove that he was not an actual participant in the murder of Mastafire. Mastafire said that he did not have a revolver on his person on the day of the shooting and that as soon as the shooting began he ran away.

A number of American witnesses testified that they did not see Mastafire engage in the fracas, but that Caro and Tony the Shoemaker, (Mastafire) appeared to be the principal actors in the tragedy.

The Shoemaker Missing.

From the testimony of witnesses and of the prisoners it is evident that Tony the Shoemaker, took a prominent part in the killing of Mastafire. After the murder Tony got away and his present whereabouts are unknown to the authorities. Caro had sworn that Tony had taken part in the fight.

The case was given to the jury this afternoon. Judge Bell was anxious to have the case disposed of speedily that he held court yesterday although suffering severely from lumbago. Judge Bell is a man who does not easily surrender to sickness, and his appearance on the bench when he ought to have been in his bed demonstrates the fact that he is full of grit.

A Lucky Illness.

One of the physicians who had been subpoenaed as a witness in the murder case is congratulating himself that one of the jurors was taken ill on Friday, although he is glad the juror's illness was not of a serious character.

The doctor thought he could slip away on Friday and enjoy the day on a trout stream and be back in time to give his testimony. Accordingly he hid himself to Deer creek. Whether he caught any trout depends further sayeth not, but that he caught have caught a fine of $30 and the pleasure of the court is certain if the juror had not been taken ill thus making the doctor's presence unnecessary.

The attachment which had been issued for the doctor's apprehension was not served, and the doctor is congratulating himself over his narrow escape.

At noon Messrs. Cole and Miller, of counsel for the prisoners, had finished their speeches to the jury, and at the opening of the afternoon session, A. H. Woodward spoke on behalf of the commonwealth. The charge of Judge Bell, followed and the jury retired to deliberate on the verdict.

EVADING THE ISSUES.

Under orders from Boss Penrose
the Republican state committee, in session at Harrisburg today, is expected to sidetrack the making of a
platform for the campaign this fall.
The Republican machine is not prepared to enter the contest and fight
the campaign upon live issues, but
hopes to spring upon the voters later
in the year a platform declaring for
a higher tariff, war with Mexico and
a few other questions which have little or nothing to do with Pennsylvania politics.

Penrose is afraid to have his state
committee declare against the liquor
evil. He owes his nomination to the liquor interests, and he wishes to have an opportunity to pay his debts
to the rum dealers. The liquor dealers on their part do not want Penrose
to declare himself on the question,
lest the wave of temperance started
in this state shall sweep them out of business.

Penrose does not wish his state
committee to declare itself for or against woman's suffrage, although
he and his followers will try to deceive the women during the campaign
by telling them that he is for votes
for women. But the women of Pennsylvania are not going to permit Pen-

rose to evade this issue, and they will demand of him that he make his
position on the question so plain that they will know where he actually
stands.

There are other issues which the Republicans are desirous of having
kept in the background, workingmen's
compensation act, child labor and the like—and the effort of the Penrose following to keep these in the background by postponing until September the announcement of the Republican platform will not prevent
the discussion of these issues.

OPPOSING THE LAW.

There is a federal law which prohibits the killing of migratory birds
at certain times and this is being fought by the pot hunter. The law
was passed in the hope that the birds
which migrate from one part of the country to the other might be protected from extermination. In the south
for instance, robins are slaughtered
throughout the winter by men who claim to be sportsmen, but who are nothing more than bird butchers.

A southwestern judge has declared
the migratory bird law unconstitutional, and the matter will be taken to the supreme court of the United States. Sportsmen who hunt for the pleasure of hunting should aid in the enforcement of every law that has for
its object the preservation of the birds of the country, now fast disappearing, what with the pot hunter always in the field and the craze for feathers on their headgear by women.

The good people of Stroudsburg
raised over thirty-two thousand dollars toward the erection of a new building for the town's Y. M. C. A.
Another example for Clearfield people to paste in their scrap books.

Here's hoping High school graduates will find life's pathway strewn
with many roses and that the thorns
may be few and far between.

Lest you forget, the circulating library is still waiting for those books
you intend to give it.

Europe's Diamond Industry.

Years ago Amsterdam was at the head of the diamond industry in Europe. Of late Antwerp has forged ahead and taken first place. Amsterdam very largely specializes in small
stones, and its superiority over Antwerp in cutting these diamonds is unquestioned. Antwerp, on the other hand, cuts large diamonds and small
ones, according to what happens to be most in demand. It works on the larger Transvaal stones furnished by
the London syndicate, and at the same time it monopolizes the small southwest African business.

The Word "Lurid."

The word "lurid" is misused by many people as a synonym for "glaring" or "dary." One speaks in this sense of
"lurid" language, "lurid" flames, "lurid" dramas. It is probable that not one person in three knows the real meaning of "lurid." The dictionary defines it as "ghastly, pale, wan, gloomy,"
which in no way carries out the general and mistaken idea of the word.—

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back
Hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every
day eat it, but flush your kidneys
with salts occasionally, says a noted
authority who tells us that meat form
uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it
from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with
a dull misery in the kidney region,
sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour,
tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.
The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and
irritated, obliging you to seek relief
two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids,
to cleanse the kidney and flush off the
body's urinous waste get four ounces
of Jad Salts from any pharmacy her
take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days
and your kidneys will then act fine.
This famous salts is made from the
acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used
for generations to flush and stimulat
 sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize
the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful efferves-
cent lithia-water drink.

STORIES OF WRECK BASIS OF FIGHT

Owners of Vessels Back the Two Commandors.

BODIES OF 99 IDENTIFIED.

Dynamite to Be Used to Blow Up Sunk Ship—More Bodies May Than Be Recovered—$1,000,000 in Silver at Bottom of River Sought—Grief Stricken Relatives Surround Morgue.

Montreal, June 3.—While waiting for the convening of the special commission that will fix the responsibility for the sinking of the Empress of Ireland both the representatives of the Canadian Pacific Railway company and of the Dominion Coal company, which owns the Storstad, have assumed the policy of silence.

The officers and members of the crew of both vessels have been warned not to tell any more about their experiences.

From what has been said already, however, there is every indication of a bitter fight ahead. The officers of the Dominion Coal company will stand by Captain Anderson of the Storstad to the finish. It is noticeable here that while sentiment on the day of the disaster and the day following was generally in favor of Captain H. G. Kendall of the Empress, the young Norwegian who commands the collier has since won many friends.

Statements Are Reconciled. There are many who believe that, while his statement and that of Captain Kendall appear to vary in important points, particularly with regard to the backing away of the Storstad after the collision, they may be reconciled in a great measure when the different points of view are considered.

It is not likely that the special commission will meet until June 9 at the earliest.

Ninety-nine Bodies Identified. In Quebec the identification of the victims is going on slowly, and only ninety-nine have been recognized, leaving ninety-nine still wearing the tags that were placed on them when they were shipped from Rimouski.

Grief stricken relatives still stream to "shed 27," where the dead lie. Many distressing sights are witnessed as the identifications are made and as complications arise over the claims of different persons for the same body.

Five different persons claimed the body of a baby. One body had been identified as that of Mrs. H. Wynne Price. Sailors from the Empress of Ireland later identified it as that of Mrs. T. H. Leader, chief stewardess of the Empress.

Mrs. Price's niece, who made the original identification, finally proved by rings found on the body that it was that of her aunt, and the body was given into her possession.

Public services over the bodies of nine sailors will be held. The entire city will participate in the exercises. Sailors from the cruiser Essex, soldiers from the citadel and men from the ships in the harbor will march in the funeral procession.

Empress Will Be Dynamited. The best opinion of marine men is that the Empress of Ireland will be dynamited. This may release a lot of bodies that are believed still to be in the hull—some of those who were killed as they slept and others who were unable to get to the decks.

The breaking up of the sunken liner may also release $1,000,000 in silver bullion which she carried. The Empress sank much nearer shore than was first reported. She lies seven and a half miles from Father Point. A large buoy marks the wreck, and at night this is topped with a strong light.

GERMANY AND SHIPS' FINES.

Cases of Ypiranga and Bavaria Under Inquiry—No Protests Yet.

Berlin, June 3.—No instructions in connection with the fines imposed on the German steamships Ypiranga and Bavaria for landing at Puerto Mexico cargoes of arms and ammunition for Provisional President Huerta have been given by the German foreign office to Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States.

This official statement was made at the government offices, but it was added that the cases are under investigation for the purpose of ascertaining exactly what occurred. They will later be the subject of negotiations with Washington.

An official denial was given to a published report that Germany had protested against the penalization of the vessels.

LIMITING LABOR INJUNCTIONS

House to Consider This Section of Anti-trust Bill.

Washington, June 3.—The Clayton "omnibus" anti-trust bill is still before the house, with prospects that detailed consideration of the measure will be completed at once.

Rapid progress has been made, only five of the twenty-two sections of the bill remaining to be disposed of. When the house convened it was the intention to consider the section of the bill limiting the use of the injunction in labor disputes.

I. W. W. PLANS GREAT FIGHT AT TARRYTOWN

Village Arms Extra Force to Repulse Assault of Mob.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 3.—Despite heavy sentences imposed on agitators who have made Tarrytown a field for their operations, a mob of 500 is being organized to renew the assault, and the village authorities are prepared for trouble.

"If you want fight, we'll give it to you," Leonard Abbott, president of the Free Speech league, warned President Pierson. "Yes, we'll bring a mob and fill all your jails to overflowing," added an anarchist whose name does not suggest activities in these parts.

Mr. Pierson refused to be bluffed into granting permission for meetings in Tarrytown, but he takes the threats seriously enough to have an extra force of guards on duty to battle with the invading host.

Additional arms have been provided for the police, and they are instructed to use bullets if other methods of keeping the peace fail.

The twelve prisoners in White Plains jail are still on hunger strike. "Eat or starve," is Sheriff Doyle's ultimatum.

AT ONCE! CLOGGED, NOSTRILS OPEN, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane, which lines the nose, head and throat, clears the air passages, stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath with head stuffed, nostrils closed, hawking and blowing Catarrh or a cold with its running nose, foul mucous dripping into the throat and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in Ely's Cream Balm and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

Varieties of Bridges. Bridges are seen hanging over rivers and upon noses. They also span some streets. They should not be confused with the game called bridge, which spans only time and money. Some bridges, like poker, depend entirely upon the draw. Bridges spend their time in heaving up and down and leaning against their towers. The object of bridges is to give very one a chance to get back from where he has been, or to go whence he can get back. Sometimes bridges are built over railroad tracks and spend all their time in saving people from being run over. A bridge which is thus employed is very happy, because it leads an upright life; also because the railroad company was sad when obliged to put it there.

Bridges are also used over chasms. Every chasm ought to have one. It provides a place for children to fall from; also it gives the chasm something to look up to.—Life.

CARRANZA'S DEFI WORRIES WILSON

Latest Statement May Disrupt Peace Negotiations.

POSITION IS EMBARRASSING

President Denies Himself to All Callers as Situation Grows More Serious. Confident Front in Regard to Mediation Is Observed at White House. Rebels Firm in Demands.

Washington, June 3.—Unless Secretary Bryan can find some new oil to calm the troubled waters at Niagara Falls, mediation, official Washington fears, will be swamped. It is feared that a blowup may come at any time. The ark of the peacemakers is foundering.

President Wilson denied himself to all callers, except members of the cabinet, who assembled for the regular meeting. The president has been in frequent communication with the American commissioners at Niagara Falls, and despite the efforts made at the White House to preserve a confident front regarding mediation, it was evident that the high officials of the government are apprehensive of what Carranza's latest defl to the mediators will bring forth.

It was stated at the executive officers that the published accounts of Carranza's address to the American press, in which the Constitutionalists commander declared in substance that he would completely ignore any conclusions reached at Niagara Falls which might take Huerta into consideration or attempt to settle the internal affairs of the republic, have not yet been officially confirmed. It was evident, however, that officials are not inclined to seriously doubt the authenticity of the published report.

United States' Position Embarrassing. The position of the United States with regard to mediation is more than ever embarrassed by the dual character in which it appears. In the first place the United States government, having assumed the role of a friend to all factions in Mexico, is seeking to bring all these factions together in harmonious accord at Niagara Falls. In the second place, as patron of the Constitutionalists' cause in Mexico, it is not desirous of embarrassing a speedy consummation of Carranza's purposes.

Carranza apparently is not as considerate of the United States. Statements such as he delivered to the press appear to be drawn for the purpose of forcing the United States to take a definite stand in behalf of the rebel cause or of assuming responsibility for future revolutions in Mexico.

Evidently with equal desire to expose the cards of the American government the Huerta delegates at Niagara Falls and, for that matter, the mediators themselves are calling upon the United States for further evidences of its good faith. According to reports from Niagara Falls, the mediators have taken the position that they will not admit representatives of the mediators into their conferences unless the United States prevails upon Carranza to agree to an armistice. The Huerta delegates, the reports say, threaten to withdraw altogether unless this is done.

Carranza, according to his published statement, has no intention of agreeing to a cessation of hostilities. With everything of the war line coming his way, he declares his right to proceed independently of what mediation may aim to do, to capture the City of Mexico. From statements made in administration circles the state department is making no strenuous efforts to change Carranza's attitude.

As a matter of fact, it has been realized for some time that the United States regards the success of the rebel military campaign as essential to its hopes. It wants a government in Mexico as successor to Huerta which will have a firm grip on affairs and which with prompt recognition from the United States, can proceed to a re-establishment of order.

President Wilson has insisted upon a settlement which will care for the peon classes and solve the agrarian problems, and Carranza has flippantly informed the world in general that he will have no outside interference in such matters. But President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are still of the opinion apparently that the Carranza cause is one with the cause of the peons and. It is believed, would be willing to leave it to Carranza to work out.

POINCARE SEEKS A PREMIER.

Ministry Resigns, and Viviani Expected to Be Asked to Form Cabinet. Paris, June 3.—Premier Gaston Doumergue and his colleagues of the French cabinet went to the palace of the Elysee and resigned collectively to President Poincare. The president immediately began the arrangement of consultations with the speakers of the senate and the chamber of deputies and the leaders of the various parliamentary groups.

It was understood that one of the prominent politicians would be requested in the course of the day to undertake the formation of a new cabinet. The view was general in the lobbies of the chamber that Rene Viviani, now minister of public instruction, would be one of the first approached.

Vanitie and Resolute Meet In Long Island Sound.

Rye, N. Y., June 3.—When the cup class yachts Vanitie and Resolute made sail for their initial contest in the long series of races for the selection of the American boat preliminary to the cup struggles with Shamrock IV, in September, there was not wind enough to flutter the private signals at the peaks of the mainsails. The weather was clear, but for several hours before the time set for the race off Great Captain's island the water of the sound shone like the burnished brass topsides of the Vanitie.

The two yachts lay side by side all night in Glen cove, some ten miles from the start. With them was a good sized fleet of boats that followed the contest, including the tenders Cape Cod and City of Stamford. Much regret was expressed over the inability of the Defiance, the third aspirant for cup defending honors, to enter the contest. The tri-city yacht was still undergoing changes in her rig, which it is hoped will be completed by Saturday, so that she may enter the race on that day.

The foremost hands on the Vanitie and Resolute were early astir, and by eight bells headsails had been sent up in stops. Mainsails were hoisted a little later, but the yachts prepared to be towed down the sound to the start.

COURT BILL IS PASSED

Measure Changing Federal Court Terms Up to Wilson

The Shreve bill designating when federal court shall be held in Erie, Pa., passed the senate Monday. The measure had passed the house. When Senator Frank B. Brandegee, of Connecticut, reported the bill favorably from the senate judiciary committee, Senator George T. Oliver, of Pennsylvania, asked immediate consideration. The bill was passed after Senator Oliver explained that it simply changed the time for holding terms of court in Erie and that the law was requested by the judges of the district of Western Pennsylvania and by the members of the bar generally.

The bill prescribes that terms of the federal court shall be held in Pittsburgh the first Monday of May and the first Monday of November and in Erie the third Monday of March and the third Monday of September. President Wilson is expected to sign the measure promptly.

Forty-three railroads east of the Mississippi and north of the Missouri rivers were parties to the arbitration. Trainmen on the New Haven road received a 7 per cent increase.
